Rating scale: High / Medium / Low. Secondary stakeholders (Laboratory Leadership, External Suppliers, Administrative Support Staff) are mapped in Artefact 02 – Power–Interest Matrix.

Key observation. Stakeholder analysis revealed patient safety and laboratory operations teams as the highest-priority stakeholders.

HOW TO READ THIS REGISTER

Engagement strategies

Each stakeholder's engagement strategy follows from their interest and influence ratings, using the quadrants of the Power–Interest Matrix (Artefact 02).

Manage Closely
High influence and high interest. Involve in workshops, design decisions and approvals.

Keep Satisfied
High influence, lower day-to-day interest. Provide regular, concise reporting.

Keep Informed
High interest, lower influence. Communicate changes and gather feedback.

Monitor
Lower influence and interest. Share status updates as needed.

Priority stakeholders and why they matter

Stakeholder	Why they are a priority
Quality & Patient Safety Team	Monitors incidents; key need is reduced patient safety risk.
Laboratory Reception Staff	Verify and accession every specimen; most affected by manual verification.
Nurses & Phlebotomists	Collect and label specimens; primary users whose adoption decides success.
Hospital Management	Project sponsor; needs evidence of return on investment.

Next step. The register feeds the Power–Interest Matrix (02), and both inform the communication and deployment approach for the barcode tracking pilot.
